Foreword

Our happy years in school are near the close,
And what comes next absorbs our interest now.
We dream of splendid futures for ourselves;
We dream, our hearts their cherished pictures paint.
And lo, out there our fairy castles rise,
Up in the hills and very far away.
And in the sun how fair and white they gleam,
Their towers all gold amidst the tall dark trees.
How good to think these castles are our own!

Sometimes a filmy veil of softest cloud
Sinks down upon the turrets as we gaze;
While, at the side, streams of clear water fall
Over three terraces of earth and stone,
And sparkling spray leaps up to meet the clouds
Hiding the walls. We know our castle's there,
Yet all we see is just the rosy light.

—WALTER NORMAN.

Au Revoir

It's always customary
For the Class that's leaving school
To conduct themselves like dumbbells;
We're exceptions to the rule.

We're honored by the faculty,
And there's not a man alive
Who has not observed the wisdom
Of the class of '25.

We're equal to most anything,
As our records amply show;
And there's little that's worth knowing
Except the things we know.

But there's one thing really beats us,
And that's the farewell speech—
The words with which we bid good-bye—
That each must give to each.

For withal we won't admit it,
Separation is a trial;
We don't just know how to manage
Pretty speeches, so we smile.

WALTER NORMAN.

Athletic High Spots

The Season

THE athletic season of New Albany High School during 1924-25 stands out as the most remarkable in the school's history. Victories were numerous in all sports and interest was always at a high pitch. The football season was a great success as the team conquered eight of their nine foes.

The team's only loss was at the hands of the highly-touted Cathedral team of Indianapolis, a team which was but a pocket edition of Knute Rockne's famous Notre Dame eleven. Two blocked kicks which were converted into touchdowns during the first five minutes of play spelled defeat for us. However, this defeat did not discourage the Bulldogs, in fact it added zest to the remainder of the campaign, as the Bulldogs conquered everything thereafter.

The team scored splendid victories over such strong teams as St. Xavier, Owensboro, and Jeffersonville. Deem, Meyers, and Mackey were honored by being placed on all state teams.

Basketball was the second episode of success. Starting with a victory over Louisville Male the team went through the season with few setbacks. To win the first sectional tourney ever awarded to New Albany was the team's goal and they left nothing undone. Hardinsburg was beaten by the Bulldogs in the first round, and Little York was the victim in the second. The climax of the tourney found New Albany and Jeff clashing with their eyes on the sectional crown. The old High School spirit was there and it helped the team down the Theissmen by a lone point. Salem was beaten in the finals and New Albany boasted of its first sectional champs. The team journeyed to Evansville the next week end and lost to the superior Owensville five.

All in all, the football and basketball seasons were great successes. The financial end of the games was ably handled by Richard L. Hauswald, faculty manager. The excellent coaching which was the real backbone of the team's achievements was handled again by that shrewd mentor, John J. Kraemer. This was Kraemer's second season with us and we all hope he will return to us next season and continue to handle the coaching reins in the same successful manner.

Organizations

S. O. B.

Since contrast is all the vogue this year, the Senior girls, whose main purpose as an organization is to be merry, called themselves the S. O. B. sisters. The day after they chose their name, each girl appeared in mournful black with a black ribbon tied around her throat to accentuate the whiteness. Long black streamers floated behind her, and each was quite charming as a sob sister.

The girls celebrated Washington's birthday as is customary by dressing up in the fashion of his time, wearing cherries in their powdered hair, dark dresses, and thin white fichus and aprons.

The girls gave themselves a lovely party on May 15.

Who would deny that they are the "Salvation of Bachelors "

Critics: Miss Day and Mrs. Pritz.

Executive committee: Margaret Clark, chairman; Eva Lee Hinkle and Dorothy Potts.

G. O. T.

HAROLD HAUSWALD ..... President
GUY MACKEY ..... Vice-President
RAY SWEENEY ..... Secretary & Treasurer
Critics, Mr. Arthur Gribble and Mr. J. J. Kramer.

The initials G. O. T. are the official cognomen of the Senior Boy's Club of 1925.

When Underclassmen asked us why we were organized, we had to tell them, "we GOT no real reason." Confidentially we had no reasons except to have our pictures taken and to spend a few weeks trying to find a name.

One of the biggest things the Club did was to change the mode of dress for the Commencement. We GOT together and decided to adopt grey instead of the white flannel trousers worn by the previous Classes.

There were many guesses as to what G. O. T. probably stood for. Some of these were "Good Old Time," Go On Time," etc. But with all the guessing no one guessed the name "Gentlemen Of Tomorrow."

Speakers Club

THE Speakers Club, which has for its aims, to promote charity and interest in school activities, has accomplished more this year towards furthering these interests than ever before. It is also quite proud of the girls who have made it possible for the club to do so much.

At the annual Thanksgiving dinner about one hundred and sixty little boys and girls were fed and made happy, and food was sent to some of the mothers and to the Orphan's Home. On Christmas the club played Santa Claus and filled the stockings of each little tot at the Orphan's Home. The last day of school before the Christmas vacation, the Speakers gave an entertaining program in assembly, with a Christmas tree loaded with gifts for members of the faculty, as a part of its program.

After Mr. Slutz's lecture, in the high school auditorium, the Speakers gave a reception and tea for anyone who wished to stay. For the five Speakers, who were graduated in January, the remaining members gave a Five Hundred and Bridge party at the home of Margaret Clark. The guests were: Helen Rusk, Lucile Stockton, Georgia Long, Molly Wyman and Dorothy Wolfe. At the beginning of the new term they received the Freshmen girls at tea, and tried to explain the policies of our high school to these children.

The annual Speaker Dinner Party, on March the twenty-first, was lovelier than it has ever been. The hall was beautifully decorated as a colonial porch with its white pillars and walls twined with green vines. Gertrude Pierce acted as toastmistress, while Margaret Clark, Eva Lee Hinkle, Alice Thompson, Catherine Gwin, Georgia Lee Vausha, Frances Penn, Marion Klarer and Olive Venner gave toasts. After the dinner the girls took their guests to the Elks Theater.

The Wranglers were rather perturbed when they each received a formal invitation to tea with the Speakers on April the first, lest they would be fooled. But it was a very dignified party and the boys managed to balance tea and sandwiches gracefully on their knees while the girls entertained them with music and readings. The Speakers even wrote a song in honor of their guests.

The crowning success of the year was the Hawaiian operetta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," which the club presented, with the aid of the Wranglers, on April the twenty-third and twenty-fourth. Marion Klarer, Mary Louise Wells, Charles Harris and William Janes were the principals, and the chorus consisted of the other Speakers and Wranglers.

The first week-end in June they are planning a trip to Camp Elsby.

The Club has raised its standard this year in all forms. At the regular meetings, the girls furthered debating and had discussions on the problems of girls. The Club has had representatives in every contest, so far, this year; the three who won in the Constitutional contest, Alice Thompson, Lillian Green and Dorothy Seigle, were all Speakers; and the winner of the Tyler contest, Frances Penn, was a Speaker.

The girls have all worked hard but the credit for their success is due to Miss McClain, the critic, who has taken so much interest in the club and the girls, and who has done everything to promote interest in school activities.

The Scientific Research Society

THE Scientific Research Society was organized in 1919 by a group of boys who were primarily interested in science. As its name implies, the purpose of the society is to promote an interest in science and scientific work among its members. The first work of the society was in the field of radio. It has owned two receiving sets. The present radio set is a two step Audio frequency Amplifier with regenerative tuner and Magnavox loud speaker. This set has been used in the Auditorium to receive the reports of the world series in base ball and for other activities of the club. At the close of school in 1924, the set was loaned to John Plaiss and he has since been using it for his own pleasure and the club has been glad to provide this entertainment for him.

In 1922 a number of the members of the club traced the wiring of the high school building and made a blue print of the switch board and wiring system.

The most important work of the club has been done during the present school year. Under the direction of Jack Bulliet, Clell Tyler and a number of other members, a proscenium arch and lighting system was built and installed on the stage. The money for this purpose was raised by the club in sponsoring a picture show at the Elks Theater. Through the generosity of Mr. Binford of the Hoosier Panel Company a sufficient amount of three ply mahogany material for the panels of the arch was purchased at less than half price. The arch was built and a three circuit lighting system with switch board complete including switches and rheostats were installed. With this new lighting system it is possible to give all the lighting effects possible with the use of red, white and blue lights.

During the present year, Supt. H. A. Buerk gave a series of lectures to the club on metals, including iron, gold, copper and lead. Specimens of rocks containing the different ores were exhibited and the various processes by which ores are extracted were explained.

A number of the members of the club visited the new Ford Plant during its opening to visitors and were much interested in watching the making of a Ford from start to finish. Before the end of the term the club plans to visit one or more of the other big factories in Louisville.

The social event of the year for the club is the annual party for the club members and their friends held near the close of the term.

Each new member of the society is required to submit in writing a paper on some scientific subject and if it is approved by the club, he must discuss it before the club as a part requirement for membership. A number of very interesting subjects have thus been dealt with this year. This has been the best year in the club's history and it has done its best to uphold its high sounding name of Scientific Research Society.

Seven-Up

EARLY in 1924 seven Sophomore boys organized the Seven-Up Club for the purpose of awarding annually a college scholarship to some boy graduate of N. A. H. S. The student, who most merited the scholarship was to be picked by the faculty and club members. This year the club is awarding the Seven-Up Scholarship for the first time.

The officers for 1924 and 1925 were:

Kenneth Taylor, President
Robert Gwin, Vice President
Ted Stanley, Secretary
Oliver Winn, Treasurer

Other members:

Nelson Bohannon, Charles Breen, Gordon Bringle, Jack Bulliet, Edwin Gramelspacher, James Lewis, Marvin McAllister, Harold Miller, Robert Miller, Homer White, James White, Charles Stewart. Critic: Miss Martha Montgomery.

Associate members: Harry Biggs, Roscoe Davis.

Glee Club

THE Glee Club has had two very successful years. It was organized in September 1923 at the State Street School with Miss Taylor as critic, when the organization transferred to the main building Miss Rusk was chosen critic.

Our first appearance this year was as Scotch lads and lassies in the benefit program for Jack Plaiss. The songs were old Scotch ballads.

An entire program was given in assembly on St. Valentine's day in costumes of colonial boys and girls. We sang a number of popular songs, danced a Sweetheart Dance and gave readings.

Parties have been given Hallow'een, Christmas and Valentine Day at the homes of members.

Miss Rusk, Miss Gardner and Mrs. Clark gave a costume recital on May 11. The Glee Club members acted as ushers.

The members are all active, the officers efficient, and the club has prospects of a bright future.

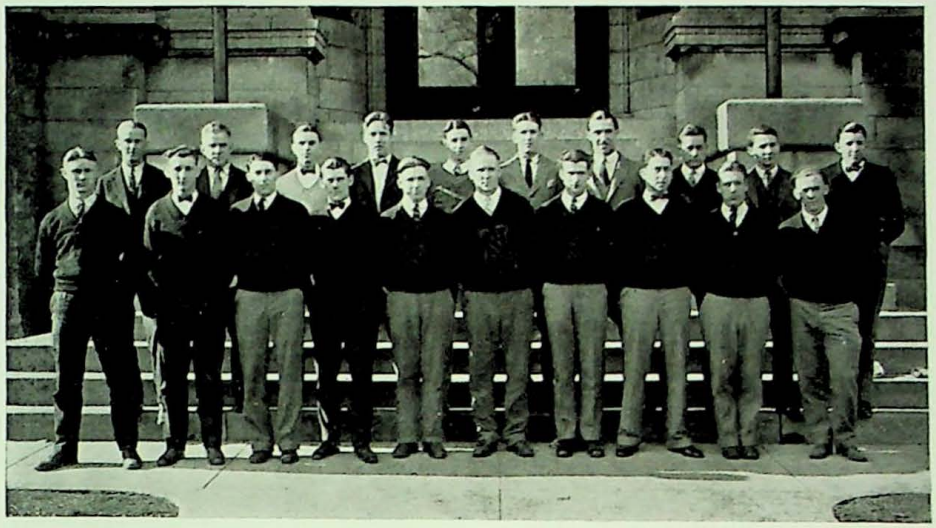
Boosters

IN THE final summing up of athletics it is very clear that no season of the past can parallel the success that has been attained this year. Our athletic campaign has been a success both from the financial standpoint as well as the victory standpoint. Much that has been accomplished is due to the extensive advertising methods, the bulk of which has been handled by the Boosters Club.

This organization with Miss Rusk as its critic, Ted Stanley as its President and Harold Hauswald filling the office of Treasurer, has been the foremost organ in inspiring pep among the students and in telling the town in general that N. A. H. S. is alive and has real winning teams. People who before had shown no interest in the teams were inspired and the gate receipts grew steadily.

Parades, rallies, the selling of program cards and red and black ties and caps for the District Tournament were only a few ways of advertising. The Boosters Hot Dog Stand was a paying proposition as well as a real boon to hungry fans.



"N" Club

Guy Mackey, President

Kenneth Caesar, Secretary-Treasurer

Front Row—Guy Mackey, Kenneth Caesar, Hugh Breen, Morris Jones, Ross Groh, Claude Husk, Clell Tyler, Charles Breen, Calvin Tucker, Kenneth Hefton.

Second Row—Mr. Hauswald, Mr. Kraemer, Losson Bettinger, William Hargrave, Roosevelt Stanley, Willis Hanen, Paul Bulleit, Kenneth Hess, Irvin Fleisher, Kenneth Stroud.

The letter men of N. A. H. S. on March 3, 1924 formed the "N" club.

To promote interest in athletics and maintain high ideals of sportsmanship are the chief aims of this organization.

The only requirement for membership to this club is that a student must earn his letter in some branch of athletics.

Commercial Club

The District Commercial Contest was held at Madison on April 18th, 1925.

The N. A. H. S. contestants won the Novice Typewriting and Shorthand events in the District and represented our school in the State Contest at Muncie on May 1st.

The teams were:

Opal Davis	Olive Venner
Dorothy Potts	Martha Zapp
Mildred Weber	Marion Gross

She—Football, basketball, or track?
He—No; I. O. U.

Losson—I once loved a girl that made a fool out of me.
Harold—What a lasting impression some girls make.

Kenneth Nunemacher—We went down the road and crossed the creek.
Mrs. Pritz—Did you ford the creek?
Kenneth—No, there wasn't any bridge.

(Miss Watson and Miss Rusk planning for the holidays).

Miss Watson—Miss Rusk, will one large stocking hold all your wants for Christmas?

Miss Rusk—No, but two socks will.

Mary had a little lamb
Her father shot it dead;
And now it goes to school with her
Between two hunks of bread.

Miss Board—Begin exercise with right foot.

Virginia (in a puzzled manner)—Shall we use all four feet at once?

Margaret Guernsey—What are you drawing?
Alice Pennington—A dog.
Margaret—But where is its left hind foot?
Alice—Oh! That's still in the ink bottle.

Edna Oates—Say, have the invitations come yet?
Marion Klarer—No, why?
Edna—I want to send mine.
Marion—What's the rush?
Edna—The sooner they are sent, the longer the time for people to buy presents.

Stranger—Can you tell me how far it is to the Daisy Depot?
Gerald Merideth—Yes sir, if you run its about a twenty minutes walk.

Jack Amster—Elmer, I think your story as it stands is rather bold.
Elmer Downs—Then I will put a few hair-raisins in it.

Miss Board (after class is over)—Now girls, pass out.

Miss Frankie—Do you know Mr. McLinn is looking for you?
Paul Bulleit—Sure, thats why he can't find me.

Joel Ford—I haven't any name.
"Hoop"—Why?
Joel—Mr. McLinn took it for loafing in Brodys.

Clell Tyler—May I come up to see you Ruth, I'm not playing baseball—gotta sore arm.

Ruth Bye—Then why bother to come over?

He—You're just like brown sugar.
She (thrilled)—Why?
He—You're so sweet and unrefined.

Evelyn Emery—Why don't you have a mirror in your vanity case?
Biz Morgan—Don't need any, I camp my photograph in it.

(Orville Jones sleeping in Mr. Hauswald's room.)
Mr. Hauswald—Stop that racket back there.
The Class—Why, that's Jones snoring.

Kenny Taylor—Eva Lee you're on the entertainment committee for French Club party.
Eva Lee—Of all the nerve! I've got a sore lip.

A—I call my sweetie "Bungalow."
B—Why?
A—Because she has a painted front, a shingle roof, and no upstairs.

Mrs. Pritz—(in Mythology)—Bernice, what is a satyr?
Bernice Martin—Half man and half beast.
(Later in Miss McClain's English class).
Miss McClain—Bernice, what is a satire?
Bernice Martin—Half man and half beast.

He—How long does it take a man to die?
She—It depends on what he dies with.
He—Well, how long does it take when he hangs?
She—Usually about five minutes.
He—That's queer. Ronald Gilley has been hanging on Hazel's back gate for the last two years, and he isn't dead yet.

Roy Brewer—Marathon, was the greatest track man of all time.

Miss Smith—Why haven't you read the play.
Emily Wentzel—You said, read "Twelfth Night or What You Will," so I read the latest copy of College Humor.

Merylee Oglesby—Then mother gave me the dickens for pushing the table cover under the lamp stand she had spent an hour ironing.

Wade—When is a cow a pronoun?
Albert—It isn't.
Wade—Yes it is.
Albert—When?
Wade—When the cow stands for Mary.

Midge Condra—(Seeing Miss Graybrook erasing some figures, which she wanted to keep on the board)—Don't do that Miss Graybrook you'll ruin your figure.
Miss Graybrook—Oh no, I still have one.

Soph—I wonder how old Miss Jones is.
Fresh—I don't know, but she must be old. Somebody said she taught Caesar.

Miss Rush—(On History exam)—What is consumption?
Chile Harris—A disease of the lungs.

Survival of the unfittest—Bill Panes and Joel Ford.

Harold Hauswald—Am I the first boy you ever kissed?
Frances Penn—Yes, and nicest.

Catherine Gwin—(discussing Constitutional Contest with Kenneth Taylor)—"I bet you don't be in it, are you?"

Bluffo Bluffare Faili Flunkem.

Mr. McLinn—Is there anything you can do better than anyone else?
Adolph Mueller—Yes, Sir, read my own writing.

Heard in Class—The people in Indianapolis do not dress on the street as they do in Louisville.

Walter Norman—Say, barber, how long will I have to wait for a shave?
Barber—(stroking his chin)—About two years, sonny!

Fly—I'm only a pebble in her life
Roy—Why don't you try being a little boulder?

Miss Kirk—Do you take Typewriting?
Lillian Green—Are you gathering statistics, or do you want some work done?

Miss Smiser—Stay out of the icebox Henrietta.
Henrietta—I'm not in it, I'm too big to get in.

Senior—"We are told that ten millon germs may collect on the point of a pin."
Smart Fresh—"I think you'd better keep your hat on."

Ulrich Neely—I tell you, this play makes me think.
Wm. Moore—Miracle play, eh?

Student in Eng. 8—If I said "I am beautiful" what tense would it be?
Classmate—(promptly)—Past.

Miss Day—(picking up copy of "Kidnapped)—Say who's this belong to, its "Kidnapped".

Mr. Norman—Can any person in this class tell what steel wool is?
Freshie—Sure. Steel wool is sheared from hydraulic rams.

Hargrave—How ya' feeling?
Quin—Rotten.
Hargrave—Whasszmatter?
Quin—Got insomnia.
Hargrave—How come?
Quin—Woke up twice in Miss Kirk's Class this morning.

Miss Smith—Take this sentence. Take the cow out of that lot. What mood?
Homer Peters—The cow.

HOW TO EDIT AN ANNUAL

We, the Senior Blotter Board, knowing all the difficulties that await next year's staff wish to leave a few explicit instructions as to how to publish an annual.

The recipe is as follows:

Call together the prize dumbbells of the Senior Class, who you are positive, have other clubs to attend every afternoon, and as many as you think would get in one another's way.

Bluff and wheedle all Seniors into handing over the ten dollars and talk all the business men into taking ads.

Let Bush-Krebs entertain you one afternoon.

Then raid the cooking room for a bowl, the sort you would use to mix a cake in, sneak a table from Miss Watson's room, telephone Mr. Lowry thirty five or a hundred times, pick the lock of Miss Morris's room with a hairpin for a ruler, bust in the office safe for mimeograph roller, and make a wild dash for Room 2.

Find pieces of card board of any size, stack up neatly two piles of Orange Smash blotters, say fifty in one and ninety-nine in the other, upset the paste as many times you think is necessary, drag pictures slowly through water until spoiled, consult a joke book for a few stale jokes.

After a few quarrels not less than twenty, seventeen interruptions from the janitor, when you have a vacant feeling below the chest as though there is an empty chair awaiting you at the supper table, grab your hat and go home.

Signed—The Senior Blotter Board.

P. S. Follow these directions letter for letter, word for word and period for period every day after school, and we assure you a bloomin' success for your future blotter.

P. P. S. Oh yes, better engage Miss Kirk to keep you in line.

BLOTTER MEMORIES.

Does It Pay to Advertise With Us?

The various clubs of the high school and the class organizations are generous spenders with the merchants of New Albany. Few realize what great consumers we are and what a great number of different commodities we buy. In the minds of many the spectacular thing such as the Senior Blotter and the senior rings loom large but these are small compared with the steady purchases made week after week in our home market.

In the past school year the following amounts have been paid out to New Albany Merchants through High School channels not under direct supervision of the Board of Education:

Food	$1,895.15
Paper	80.02
Drayage	2.50
Lumber & Paint	862.86
Rental of Chairs & Dishes	15.75
Electric Fixtures	32.00
Printing	727.24
Athletic Equipment	92.32
Laundry	7.59
Hardware	39.33
Photographs	238.47
Insurance	112.50
Dry Goods	167.00
Drugs	72.31
Flowers	116.00
Labor	2,013.50
Miscellaneous	89.90
Total	$6,564.44

"Our Boy"

HIS is the joy of achievement. He has swayed a multitude, played his way into their hearts. Theirs is the thrill of pride—"He's our boy."

What of your boy—have you encouraged his musical talent? If he chooses music as a career he will have one of the most interesting and now most highly rewarded professions.

But wholly apart from a career, playing in band or orchestra broadens his interests, builds character, uncovers the ability to lead. Among America's leaders—statesmen, bankers, captains of industry—are countless men whose musical ability has helped them to success.

Give your boy his chance. Provide him with a Conn, "the instrument of the artists." Conns are so easy to play, so perfect in scale and beautiful in tone, so light and reliable in action that progress is rapid and success assured.

Come in and see our complete line of Conn instruments. We are exclusive agents for these "world's finest band instruments." We'll gladly demonstrate them, without obligation.

A Dollar's Worth

A dollar's worth for a dollar —this is the keynote of all good merchandising. No merchant can long succeed who ignores this principle.

Our policy is one of quality in merchandise. Each piece of goods we handle must contain the greatest amount of quality possible for its price.

In merchandise there are many grades. In our stocks each is an honest value, sold exactly for what it is—a full dollar's worth.

annuals

No task imposes a more definite obligation upon the Senior Class than that of preparing, in attractive form for an expectant school, the chronicle of events and activities of their last and most important year.

The task is an imposing one to say the least oftentimes made more complex by retaining the services of an inexperienced printer, to whom the importance of immediate delivery and the necessity for superior craftsmanship mean nothing.

At Fetters your job is partly ours.

Here all work is performed by skilled hands under exacting supervision with the minimum of waste effort and annoyance for the staff.

Here every element from start to finish is given the attention an enthused staff has the right to expect—which explains why each year finds an increased number of Annuals "printed by Fetter."

Place your order here next year. You will be assured an Annual that carries out the right conception of what you want and you'll get it when you want it.

Staff

If there is any way in which we can lighten your burden you are entitled to know it. The logical thing to do is to drop us a line now and secure a tentative connection that will enable you to work along the right lines next year.
